

YourLifeChoices Doubles Revenue and Engagement with Suite of Taboola Products

“We were seeing a significant number of users drop off after finishing our articles and reading the comments sections on the website. Implementing Taboola Feed allowed us to display sponsored content and related articles from our own content at these two drop off areas.”

- Drew Patchell, Digital Operations Manager, YourLifeChoices

COMPANY

An A to Z of things that may, or may not, cause cancer

Author: Leon Della Bosca

There are a lot of myths surrounding the things that can cause cancer. And although there are many malicious substances or products that can encourage the silent killer, there are just as many myths about what can cause cancer. Here's an A to Z of the more common ones.

Artificial Sweeteners

Lab tests show that Saccharine caused cancer in rats, but then, we're not rats, are we? Similar studies with aspartame were also inconclusive. It may not be so good for you in many other ways, but there's no real hard science to say that sweeteners cause cancer.

Taboola Feed Provides Significant Increase in Revenue and User Engagement with Organic Content for YourLifeChoices

YourLifeChoices wanted to respond to a significant change in the Australian advertising landscape—they needed an additional revenue source outside of direct and traditional programmatic sources.

YourLifeChoices had tested a competitor prior to working with Taboola. They encountered significantly lower revenue and low content quality—but a major challenge YourLifeChoices faced was keeping users on-site after reading an article.

They started using Taboola's Widget to reverse this. YourLifeChoices revenue from their on-website inventory, which YourLifeChoices defines as display inventory outside of Taboola, has increased by 286%, while their total revenue has increased by 351% since working with Taboola.

After seeing success, YourLifeChoices implemented Taboola Feed. Taboola Feed allows them to display both sponsored and organic content in this critical place at the bottom of the article where they were seeing users leave—the moment of next.

YourLifeChoices saw that in addition to revenue growth through engagement with sponsored content, the further a user scrolled through Taboola Feed, the higher the CTR on their organic content. Taboola feed brought them an 80% increase in overall revenue and double the CTR.

Taboola's Mailbridge Integration Generates More Traffic from YourLifeChoices Newsletter

In addition to Taboola Feed, YourLifeChoices implemented Taboola's Mailbridge Integration in their newsletter.

Taboola has partnered with LiveIntent, the world's largest email monetization platform, to leverage user data and improve cross-device targeting for a better user experience.

Today, 230,000+ email subscribers are monetized with Taboola's newsletter integration, making the Taboola integration an essential added feature for revenue.

Taboola's products are powered by proprietary deep learning algorithms that are powered by the largest dataset of content consumption behavior across the open web. Because of this, Taboola products are applicable to all audiences—in this case, YourLifeChoice's audience of those interested in retirement.

According to YourLifeChoices, exceptional service from Taboola's account management team has added value to their business.
